FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Form 10-QSB includes "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the "safe-harbor" provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements are based on management's current expectations and are subject to a number of factors and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements.

All statements other than historical facts included in this Form, including without limitation, statements under "Plan of Operation", regarding our financial position, business strategy, and plans and objectives of management for the future operations, are forward-looking statements.

Although we believe that the expectations reflected in such forward-looking statements are reasonable, it can give no assurance that such expectations will prove to have been correct. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from our expectations include, but are not limited to, market conditions, competition and the ability to successfully complete financing.

ITEM 2. PLAN OF OPERATION

The success of our business plan depends heavily on the strength of national and local new residential construction, home improvement and remodelling markets. Future downturns in new residential construction and home improvement activity may result in intense price competition among building materials suppliers, which may adversely affect our intended business.

The building products distribution industry is subject to cyclical market pressures and most impacted by changes in the demand for new homes and in general economic conditions that impact the level of home improvements. Our business success depends on anticipating changes in consumer preferences and on successful new product and process development and product re-launches in response to such changes. Consumer preferences for our products shift due to a variety of factors that affect discretionary spending, including changes in demographic and social trends and downturn in general economic conditions.

The building products distribution industry is extremely fragmented and competitive. Our competition varies by product line, customer classification and geographic market. The principal competitive factors in our industry are pricing and availability of product, service and delivery capabilities, ability to assist with problem-solving, customer relationships, geographic coverage and breadth of product offerings. We compete with many local, regional and national building materials distributors and dealers.

Separate showers and baths have also become de rigueur in many households and increasingly a major component in the Personal Healthcare industry segment. Showers have morphed into vertical spas and the use of multiple shower heads is also growing in popularity, often with multiple sprays for each head.

We are positioning ourselves to take advantage of current market and industry trends for the Personal Healthcare segment; including an increased emphasis on a personal health care lifestyle and an increased emphasis on spending time at home or "cocooning". Consumers in this industry segment wish to remain active and seek personal health care products to maintain a high quality of life. These "baby boomers" typically have more discretionary income, which are more likely spent on home remodelling projects (including projects to improve their pools and spas).

We intend to develop our retail network by initially focusing our marketing efforts on larger chain stores that sell various types of shower heads, such as Home Depot. These businesses sell more shower heads, have a greater budget for in-stock inventory and tend to purchase a more diverse assortment of shower heads. In 2008, we anticipate expanding our retail network to include small to medium size retail businesses whose businesses focus is limited to the sale of bathroom accessories. Any relationship we arrange with retailers for the wholesale distribution of our shower heads will be non-exclusive. Accordingly, we will compete with other shower head vendors for positioning of our products in retail space.

Even if we are able to receive an order commitment, some larger chains will only pay cash on delivery and will not advance deposits against orders. Such a policy may place a financial burden on us and, as a result, we may not be able to deliver the order. Other retailers may only pay us 30 or 60 days after delivery, creating an additional financial burden.

We are also continuing to review other potential acquisitions of and sales and distribution arrangements with companies involved in the wholesale and manufacturing sectors. During the quarter, we entered into a standstill letter agreement with Aussie Soles, a company involved in the leisure footwear industry with a view to acquire the licensing rights and assets of such company. We are currently in the process of completing due diligence investigations of Aussie Soles and also investigating various opportunities in the biotechnology and alternative energy sectors.

We intend to retain one full-time sales person in the next six months, as well as an additional full-time sales person in the six months thereafter. These individuals will be independent contractors compensated solely in the form of commission based upon bamboo flooring sales they arrange. We expect to pay each sales person 12% to 15% of the net profit we realize from such sales.

We therefore expect to incur the following costs in the next 12 months in connection with our business operations:

Marketing costs:	$20,000
General administrative costs:	$10,000
Total:	$30,000

In addition, we anticipate spending an additional $10,000 on administrative fees. Total expenditures over the next 12 months are therefore expected to be $40,000.

During the quarter, the Company announced that we are proceeding with the sale of up to $600,000 in the private placement of its securities at $0.40 per Unit. Each Unit to consist of one share of the Company's common stock and one common share purchase warrant (a "Warrant"). Each Warrant is exercisable into one share of Common Stock at an exercise price of US$0.60 per Warrant Share, for a period of two years. The private placement is intended to finance potential acquisition and working capital requirements, including administrative expenses and costs incurred in connection with our review of potential projects.

Although upon the completion of the private placement financing, we will have sufficient funds for any immediate working capital needs, additional funding may still be required in the form of equity financing from the sale of our common stock. However, we do not have any arrangements in place for any future equity financing.

If we are unable to raise the required financing, we will be delayed in conducting our business plan.

Our ability to generate sufficient cash to support our operations will be based upon our sales staff's ability to generate sales. We expect to accomplish this by securing a significant number of agreements with large and small retailers and by retaining suitable salespersons with experience in the retail sales sector.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS FOR PERIOD ENDING NOVEMBER 30, 2007

We did not earn any revenues in the three-month period ended NOVEMBER 30, 2007. During the same period, we incurred operating expenses of $12,641 consisting of filing and transfer agent fees of of $6,150, professional fees of $7,500, management fees of $1,500, interest received of ($2,526) and bank charges of $17.

At NOVEMBER 30, 2007, we had assets of $498,087 consisting of $95,561 in cash and $400,000 in notes receivable. We had current accrued liabilities of $14,650 as of NOVEMBER 30, 2007.

We have not attained profitable operations and are dependent upon obtaining financing to pursue exploration activities. For these reasons our auditors believe that there is substantial doubt that we will be able to continue as a going concern.

ITEM 3 CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

EVALUATION OF DISCLOSURE CONTROLS

We evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of NOVEMBER 30, 2007. This evaluation was conducted by Albert Au, our chief executive officer and Jeanne Mok, our principal accounting officer.

Disclosure controls are controls and other procedures that are designed to ensure that information that we are required to disclose in the reports we file pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 is recorded, processed, summarized and reported.

LIMITATIONS ON THE EFFECTIVE OF CONTROLS

Our management does not expect that our disclosure controls or our internal controls over financial reporting will prevent all error and fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, but no absolute, assurance that the objectives of a control system are met. Further, any control system reflects limitations on resources, and the benefits of a control system must be considered relative to its costs. These limitations also include the realities that judgments in decision-making can be faulty and that breakdowns can occur because of simple error or mistake. Additionally, controls can be circumvented by the individual acts of some persons, by collusion of two or more people or by management override of a control. A design of a control system is also based upon certain assumptions about potential future conditions; over time, controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate. Because of the inherent limitations in a cost-effective control system, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and may not be detected.

CONCLUSIONS

Based upon their evaluation of our controls, Albert Au, our chief executive officer and Jeanne Mok, our principal accounting officer, have concluded that, subject to the limitations noted above, the disclosure controls are effective providing reasonable assurance that material information relating to us is made known to management on a timely basis during the period when our reports are being prepared. There were o changes in our internal controls that occurred during the quarter covered by this report that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect our internal controls.
